

MR. JAMES CECIL DAVIDSON MACKIE.

Died, 8th August, 1919.

ONE of the younger members of the Club—he joined in 1911—Mr. Mackie served throughout the war, but was unfortunately “gassed” in September, 1918, and this, it is believed, accelerated the acute pneumonia from which he ultimately died. He was the elder son of Mr. James D. Mackie, advocate, Aberdeen, and was an M.A. and LL.B. of Aberdeen University. He was pursuing his legal studies in Edinburgh, and died in a nursing home there, at the early age of twenty-seven. An account of his war services was given in our last number (p. 251).

MR. GEORGE WOOD.

Died, 23rd November, 1919.

WE have also to record the death of Mr. George Wood, at one time an active member of the Club, which he joined in 1897. He resigned his membership a few years ago, however, and has died at the venerable age of 86. His long flowing beard made him conspicuous at Club excursions, and that feature rendered him prominent in a couple of photographs of the Club at Ben Aigan which appeared in Vol. V. of the C.C.J.

We are indebted to Alma Mater for the portrait of Professor Trail.
